RUSSIANS BREAK NAZI LINE IN UKRAINE

BOUNDARY OF RUMANIA IS RED OBJECTIVE

Axis Forces Reported Fleeing In Wild Confusion, Abandoning Rifles and Machine-Guns

DRIVE TEMPO STEPS UP

Moscow, March 24.—(AP)—Pushing through the foothills of the Carpathian mountains, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's Second Ukrainian army drove hard today for the Prut river boundary of Rumania and the important north-south railway paralleling the river five miles further west—a railway which is one of the keys to the northeastern corner of Rumania.

(Between Tarnopol and Proskurov the Russians announced a 35-mile breakthrough, the German communiqué said "grim defensive fighting against superior Soviet combat groups continues.")

Boris Polevoy, war correspondent in Bessarabia, wired Pravda that the Germans and Rumanians were fleeing in wild confusion, abandoning rifles and machine-guns.

Advance units of Konev's mobile forces were reported stepping up the tempo of their drive in the more solid country of the rising Carpathian foothills.

Red army troops, front dispatches said, already are within sight of the Carpathians and in some sectors can glimpse from high ground the winding Prut 15 miles to the west.

With Konev's swift advance through northeast Bessarabia against Rumanian units, their German commanders appeared unable to hold them together for a determined, concerted stand, field dispatches said.

Further north Marshal Zhukov's three-day old drive, which has liberated 200 populated points in a 35-mile advance, took his forces into the heart of the communications area controlling Lvov's connections with the lower Ukraine, the Russians said.

This strong push by the first Ukrainian Army also outflanked Tarnopol, front line dispatches reported, and left the twin German defense bastions of Proskurov to the east within the Red Army's salient. It appeared, these dispatches indicated, that the German counter-offensive in this sector has been broken and that immediate withdrawal or destruction faces Field Marshal Von Manstein's Axis armies.

(Berlin declared that other Soviet forces, presumably part of Zhukov's army, had stormed into the important junction of Kovel on the main road to Warsaw.) Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's third Ukrainian army at the same time was reported battling enemy troops in the outskirts of Voznesensk on the Bug River, 50 miles north of Nikolae and 80 miles northeast of Odessa. Nikolae was more closely threatened, frontline dispatches said, by a Russian thrust through the town of Konstantinovka, 10 miles to the north, and by other Red army troops pressing the port's defenses five miles to the southeast.

BULLETINS

London, March 24.—(AP)—A Japanese communiqué, as broadcast today by Berlin, said Japanese troops in a heavy attack had occupied part of the American positions on Bougainville island in the Pacific. It said one and one-half American divisions were under enemy assault.

London, March 24.—(AP)—The Yugoslav partisans of Marshal Tito (Josip Broz) killed 500 enemy troops in bitter fighting the last few days in eastern Bosnia, a broadcast communiqué said today. It added that partisans routed several hundred Germans and Chetniks near Trebinje in Herzegovina and destroyed three railway stations in Slovenia.

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt announced today the resignation of Leo T. Crowley, as alien property custodian and Lowell Mellett as a presidential assistant.

London, March 24.—(AP)—The British Admiralty announced today that submarines of the eastern fleet have sunk a Japanese cruiser of the Kuma class, a 7,000-ton craft en route, eight enemy ships (Turn to Page Eleven)

Vesuvius Lava Levels Italian Town

(OWI Radiophoto from NEA) As lava from erupting Mt. Vesuvius threatens the street of San Sebastiano (background, end of street) Allied military personnel (center) move up the street to help evacuate houses. This village was later all but obliterated as lava moved up the streets, crushing houses before it. Thousands of people were evacuated from the village.

Majority of Men 18 Through 25 Virtually on Way to War

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—The vast majority of men civilians 18 through 25 years of age are virtually on their way to a fighting war, unless they work on a farm or can't pass a physical test.

That became increasingly apparent today despite all the uproar over drafting key technicians in industry. Only a comparative handful of men under 26 are likely to be deferred much longer.

The others are wanted for combat duty. The president has ordered it and all government agencies have accepted it. There is no struggle over that basic policy.

On the other hand, officials estimate that 30 to 40 per cent of the under-26 men who are called will fail to meet physical standards and will go into 4-F, most of them to return to their essential jobs.

Latest figures show that on February 1 there were, in the 18-25 age group, 348,000 non-fathers alone who were deferred in war production or war-supporting activities other than agriculture. Of those, at least 100,000 would be rejected, probably more.

The great weight of bombs, focusing attention on an enemy base more than 200 miles northwest of the closest Allied ground positions below Madang, passed the 2,000-ton mark for March on the strength of a 200-ton blow dealt Wednesday and reported today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

It was the 18th air punch dealt the "Wewak sector over a period of 22 days covered by the reports. Wednesday's attack was the 12th day of unbroken strikes by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney's bombers.

The consecutive series opened March 11. Significantly, convoys have been spotted and successfully attacked recently off Aitape, 90 miles northwest of Wewak, and near Hollandia, 250 miles away. Within the past six days, six enemy warships and nine merchantmen or transports of sizes ranging up to 6,000 tons have been destroyed or damaged in waters northwest of Wewak.

Identical agreements were signed in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, under which employees were to return to work without discrimination two dismissed drivers were to be reinstated with full seniority rights after 20 days' suspension, and there was to be a further union-management discussion of a company bulletin which provided that any driver who declined a run assigned to him should be discharged.

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—Chairman Whittington (D-Miss) today predicted the house flood control committee's approval of a postwar flood control program to cost $800,000,000.

Whittington, urging quick approval of the program, said the legislation would authorize construction of levees and reservoirs throughout the country to prevent floods and provide jobs after the war.

South Carolina Short of Babies for Adoption

Columbia, S. C., March 24.—(AP)—Another shortage is being blamed on the war—this time it is babies for adoption.

"The demand is greater than the supply," Mrs. C. T. Wooten, supervisor of the South Carolina Children's Bureau said today, "and we ascribe this to wartime prosperity."

Inside Cassino, New Zealand troops still beat savagely against stubbornly defended German strong points with the support of tanks and heavy screen of artillery and mortar fire. The Nazi defenders were supported by both air attacks and increased artillery fire.

Official reports said the latest phase of the relentless struggle for the town's ruins began shortly after noon Wednesday with enemy movements observed near the Hotel Des Roses, which still is in German hands. Allied tanks engaged the Germans there.

Meanwhile the New Zealanders again wormed forward in the ruins and attacked the Germans on the western edge of the town.

The latest report said the Nazis still held the Continental hotel. Other enemy strong points listed as holding out included the Ducal Palace and Roman amphitheater south of the town.

Pittsburgh, March 24.—(AP)—Full service on all runs of the Pennsylvania Greyhound lines was resumed today as 600 drivers, maintenance men and terminal workers ended a week-long strike which had halted the company's bus traffic out of Pittsburgh to New York and Chicago and points between.

Agreement to terminate the walkout came after officials of the AFL-Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees appeared before the regional War Labor Board yesterday in Philadelphia to show cause why the strike had been called.

HARD FIGHTING STILL RAGING FOR CASSINO

Two Smashing New Bomber Blows Against Enemy Supply Lines In North Announced

FLORENCE AREA VISITED

By NOLAN NORGAAARD
Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 24.—(AP)—Two smashing new bomber blows against enemy supply lines in northern Italy—at Florence and Padua—were announced by Allied headquarters today as heavy fighting raged in Cassino with no material change in the situation.

American Marauders, out in force yesterday, blasted the Campo Di Marte freight yard, largest in the Florence area and the only one not hit in the war's first attack on Florence, March 11. Reconnaissance showed great destruction to warehouses and tracks. Smoke rose 9,000 feet.

Heavy bombers attacked railroad targets last night at Padua, important junction point west of Venice. It was the second consecutive night raid against communications there.

In conjunction with the Florence attack, another Marauder formation hit a railroad bridge at Pontassieve to the southeast and Pottshawks attacked another on the east coast line at Falconara Marittima, above Ancona.

Inside Cassino, New Zealand troops still beat savagely against stubbornly defended German strong points with the support of tanks and heavy screen of artillery and mortar fire. The Nazi defenders were supported by both air attacks and increased artillery fire.

U. S. Bombers Pound Western Germany and French Airfields In Growing Pre-Invasion Drive

American heavy bombers pounded western Germany and airfields in northeast France today in the great and growing pre-invasion campaign against the German air force and communications—a continuous battle in which upwards of 7,000 tons of explosives have showered the enemy in 36 hours.

On this third successive day of the offensive against Germany, the Fortresses and Liberators set a new record of 19 missions in a month. In wide sweeps of Germany yesterday, the Americans destroyed 61 planes, losing 27 bombers and six fighters.

Shortly after the daylight attackers had returned from five major targets in Germany yesterday, heavy British bombers took to the air to explode French targets at Lyon and Lyon last night while lighter Mosquitos deposited two-ton "cookies" on Dortmund and western Germany waters were mined. Other Allied bombers in Italy pounded rail yards at Padua, west of Venice, after daylight raiders hit the Florence rail yards.

Two British planes were lost last night. In 800 offensive flights from Italy, no plane was lost. Assaulting Hamm, Achmer, Werl, Handorf and Munster yesterday, the U. S. lost 27 bombers and six fighters. Fighter escorts alone destroyed 20 German planes.

As D-day approached, Prime Minister Churchill reviewed American troops in the field. He said they "soon will have the opportunity of landing upon the soil of France."

Stampa, of Turin, for example, endeavoring to persuade others to follow the example of workmen already in Germany, assured them "your families will absolutely be cared for" adding the further questionable inducement that "one will be taken of the orphans of workers who die in Germany."

Pittsburgh, March 24.—(AP)—The University of Pittsburgh Business Research Bureau reported that business in the Pittsburgh district last week attained highest levels since mid-February.

Beginning early this month, the rise came from a pronounced gain in trade although small increases were reported in the volume of shipments and industrial production.

The bureau said its seasonally adjusted index of business in the district last week stood at 176.1 per cent of the 1935-39 average, a level less than three points below the peak reached in late January.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—A group of Washington church leaders is demanding removal of Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) as chairman of the senate's district of Columbia committee.

The request stems from opposition here to remarks made by Bilbo in an address on race relations Wednesday to the Mississippi legislature. Bilbo cited the absence of race segregation in Washington and urged the south to "renew our faith and allegiance to the color."

Two and one-half hours of cross-examination yesterday failed to break the youth's calm insistence that he knew nothing of the attacks on Miss Belle Geary and her 83-year-old sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, late in 1941.

Now on trial for the murder of Miss Geary, Leeds was acquitted of murder two years ago in the death of the other woman.

NIAGARA COMMISSION
Harrisburg, March 24.—(AP)—Governor Martin today reappointed six members of the flagship Niagara Commission and named Ralph G. Walling, Gorry, to succeed Capt. W. L. Morrison, Erie, who resigned. Reappointed were J. E. Reed, Emmett S. Parker, Mrs. Lina J. Moore, Roy T. McDonald, Merle C. Quay, G. Lynn Brotherton, all of Erie.

Los Angeles, March 24.—(AP)—Joan Berry, who has testified she kept many an illicit tryst with Charlie Chaplin, was recalled today for further cross-examination at the comedian-producer's trial on Mann Act charges.

The 24-year-old former dramatic student, who in another case alleges that Chaplin is the father of her child, told a federal court jury their intimacies took place in Beverly Hills and New York City.

Chaplin, 34, is charged with transporting her to New York and return for immoral purposes.

His attorney, Jerry Giesler, was headed off by government objections whenever he attempted any reference yesterday to Joan's previous sex experience if any.

Miss Berry testified she was intimate with Chaplin about two weeks after she had met him.

TURKS UNEASY OVER BALKAN DEVELOPMENT

Widening Flood of Hitler Forces In Danubian Basin Re-Awakens Anxieties of 1914

PURGE ON IN HUNGARY

BULLETIN
Ankara, March 24.—(AP)—The Rumanian legation here confirmed today that Germany has occupied Rumania. An official said he had only the briefest information. A strong possibility exists that the Rumanian legation in Turkey, or at least many Rumanian officials will refuse to continue to function in view of the occupation.

London, March 24.—(AP)—Turkish advices reported today that German reinforcements had been rushed to all points on the Rumanian and Bulgarian coasts of the Black Sea and indicated possible beginning of full-scale occupation of all Rumania as part of Hitler's preparations for a last-ditch stand against the advancing Russian armies.

Turkey herself was said to be casting an anxious eye over the extensive German troop movements throughout southeastern Europe.

An Istanbul dispatch said it had been learned reliably there that the Germans were in full control of every Rumanian and Bulgarian city on the Black Sea, with all local troops under the command of Nazi officers.

The widening flood of Nazi forces in the Danubian basin and the Balkans re-awakened Turkey's 1941 anxieties—fears that were produced by Germany's move into Rumania and Bulgaria preparatory to the Greek and Yugoslav campaigns.

An Associated Press dispatch said a rigorous check in Istanbul in connection with the report that the Germans had begun taking over all facilities in Rumania yesterday failed to produce either confirmation or denial. Telephone communication between Turkey and Bucharest, the Rumanian capital, was suspended.

(A London broadcast quoted a Swiss dispatch as reporting that Prince Cyril of Bulgaria and Regent Bogdan Philov "have been ordered to the headquarters of Hitler next Monday," a pattern that Hitler appears to have set up of before his troops move in.)

Neutral sources said the new Quisling regime in Hungary, assisted by the gestapo, was pressing a purge of anti-Nazis and Jews throughout the country, with the borders of all neighboring countries closed to refugees.

An Axis source in Ankara said Hungary's deposed premier, Nicholas Kallay, had applied for sanctuary in Turkey.

Sordid Testimony Against Loneragan
By JAMES H. PORTERFIELD
New York, March 24.—(AP)—Wayne Loneragan's story of committing an act of perversion with an American soldier in New York the weekend his heinous wife was slain was read today to a general sessions court jury trying him for murder.

The 26-year-old defendant sat expressionless at the defense table as the details were unfolded.

He told the story to Assistant District Attorney John Loehr in Toronto after his arrest last October and a Toronto police stenographer read it to the all male jury. Spectators were barred from the courtroom.

Loneragan later repudiated the story in a statement made to the district attorney after he was brought to New York from Toronto.

European Conquest May Take Over Year, Montgomery Says
By ERNEST AGNEW
London, March 24.—(AP)—The European war may last a year or longer, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared today in an address saluting the British ground forces he will lead in the forthcoming invasion and calling for full cooperation on the home front.

"We are preparing to take part in the biggest tug of war the world has ever seen, and if anyone should let go of the rope, then we lost the match," said the colorful general, who won fame as the commander of the British Eighth Army.

Later in an address at the Mansion House in London opening Salute-to-the-Soldier Week, Montgomery declared emphatically: "The promised land is not so far off now. If necessary, we have got to hazard all and give our lives that others may enjoy it."

As a battler for the nation, Montgomery—who is the son of a bishop—suggested "Let God arise and let his enemies be scattered."

Supervisors Granted Right To Raise Taxes

At sessions of court held this week before Judge Allison Wade, a number of motions and petitions were filed by attorneys and several other matters disposed by the court.

Guy Farnsworth who was held in jail for some time for the passing of a fraudulent check at the A and P store in Sheffield was released from jail on payment of costs and making restitution. A fine which was imposed will be paid by a Sheffield garage owner who took an order to deduct a set sum from the fellow's pay. Requests were filed by attorneys for Pleasant Township, Freehold Township and Farmington Township supervisors asking for increase in the millage to be levied for road purposes in those townships. Pleasant Township was granted a two mill increase, Freehold a one mill increase and Farmington Township a two mill increase.

A divorce suit in which Ida M. Clark is suing her husband Ebert J. Clark for divorce was given some attention on Wednesday as she asked for alimony and attorney's fees. The hearing was continued until Thursday when further hearing was given. No opinion as yet has been filed by Judge Wade in the matter.

Sylvania Beam Reflects Rays On Local Folk

In the current issue of the Sylvania Beam, containing interesting news of the various plants owned by the company there appears a number of illustrations of employees of the Warren plant. Amid the large number of other illustrations, Warren gets four of its employees pictured and written up. They are:

Carl J. Albrecht, foreman of the weld division; Adam E. Beltz, Jr., also a foreman of the weld division; Clifford Briggs, foreman of the Die Department and Thomas Gannon, foreman of the tool room. All are married and it is interesting to note that three of the four have hunting and fishing as hobbies while Mr. Briggs clings to the drums.

In the notes relative to the social life of the employees it is noted that plant employees of Warren held their first get-together party at the Stoneham Community House with about fifty employees and guests attending. Speaker of the evening was C. P. O. Richard A. Wilson, who told of his experiences in Brazil with the U. S. Navy. C. P. O. Wilson is the son of Rollin Wilson of Warren and has been connected with the Radio and Radar Division of an Air Squadron where he reports many Sylvania products are in use.

DOG STOOD BY

One of the Warren group that periodically annexes too much of the cup that cheers was gathered in by the police last evening after he had done a flopper on the side walk near the financial section. His dog stood guard as the coppers took the fellow to the police station and trotted along after the cruiser car. When the cell door banged on the reclining form of the man the dog lay down at the cell door and throughout last night kept guard and also accompanied the man on his visit with Magistrate Greenlund.

FEDERAL OFFENSE

Attention of the Times-Mirror was called today to the fact that the person who gathered up the box of comforters that dropped from an express company truck on Fourth avenue this week faces punishment in Federal courts. Inasmuch as the carton of comforters was consigned to the New Process Company and had been shipped in interstate traffic it is a federal offense to have picked up a report. The person who has the package in their possession would do well to report it immediately or the FBI may cause them trouble.

MOVIES A LA WAR

These official U. S. Army Signal Corps photos, from New Georgia in the Solomons, show one set of conditions under which servicemen in combat areas and isolated outposts abroad see the latest Hollywood films. These films, which are about half the screen size shown in our neighborhood theatre, are rushed abroad by the Army's Overseas Motion Picture Service, the gift of the American motion picture industry.

Even though battle conditions don't permit roomy, plush chairs, even though a global war means the tropics and pouring rains in places without roofs, GI-Joe wouldn't dream of missing his screen entertainment.

The film industry gives the army its choice of all Hollywood product, usually flown overseas by the army to be shown to an average of 630,000 servicemen a night. War Department officials estimate that the effect of movies on maintaining morale is on a par with those other two morale-builders, mail from home and meals.

The army gives 'em meals, and with the cooperation of the film industry, movies. It's up to YOU to come through with plenty of mail.

According to one of our syndicate correspondents in Washington shoe-shoppers will have a field day the first three weeks in May. A new shoe stamp, as yet undesigned, will be good the first of May. Added good news is that from May 1 to 20, some low-priced children's shoes will be ration-free. These will range from children's sizes 8½ through 12 and misses' and little boys' sizes 12½ through 3. There is an estimated stock of 5,000,000 pairs of these low-priced shoes, but their release for sale under the top retail price of $1.60 is voluntary, so you may have to shop around.

Japan's General Tojo is straining hard to make capital out of the Nipponese "invasion" across the north-east border of India from Burma, and it's of more than passing interest to find him trying to build a political sensation out of it with the claim that the so-called Indian National army, with headquarters in Burma, is participating, with the idea of liberating India. War analysts see no major threat, either military or political, against India. Allied headquarters minimize the importance of the attack. No one should forget, however, that this great sub-continent is the chief Allied base for the final smash against Japan. Its complete security is vital, and the situation should not be dismissed lightly.

Ralph M. Chester, 107 Pioneer street, Warren, American Red Cross Worker with the Allied armies on the Italian beachhead, is presented in a short feature at the Library Theatre, which is attracting much attention from moviegoers. Mr. Chester's work among the soldiers on the front lines has been so outstanding that he has been pictured two times within the last three weeks in New York newspapers.

British Prime Minister Churchill is used to worldwide audiences, but keen attention will be paid his statement in parliament that there will be renewed consultation between the principal Allies on the application of the Atlantic Charter. Need of clarification of this historic Allied pledge to mankind long has been apparent. Whether the prime minister will discuss this vital subject in his broadcast Sunday afternoon at four o'clock has not been divulged.

Dispatches from abroad would seem to indicate that there is no scarcity of "traps" and "rings" on the Russian front.

Lot of folks seem to be able to get their minds away from the war by following the Lonergan trial in New York and Chaplin's case in Los Angeles.

LENTEN SERMONETTE

FOUNDATION STONE OF THE CHURCH
The Right Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth,
Bishop of Erie

Text: St. Matthew 16:13. "Upon this rock I will build my church."

No matter what you believe concerning the foundation stone of the church I want you to consider now the church's fundamental task. In our busy day we must discard all but fundamentals. Our attention, our efforts and our resources are engaged in a cause which demands our all. We are at war. We Americans are eager to do our full share in achieving the victory on which depends the future peace of the world. Thus engrossed what shall we do about religion? Is it not a good time to drop church work along with everything else optional?

The Church, however, is as indispensable in war as it is in peace. As the body of the Living Christ the church alone can inspire the peace at heart for which we long, the steadfastness in danger which we need, and the clarity of ultimate purpose without which wars may be fought in vain. Tribulation and distress should not separate us from the love which Christ pours out. Whatever is not vital to Him does have to be severely pruned away. To give up what is unessential is to add to our fitness, like an athlete training. To give up what is essential to lose a vital organ. It brings death. The one essential enterprise is the Church's witnessing program. Church extension is not an extra elective. It is vital to the very life of the Body of Christ. It is necessary to prevent decay.

Moreover the Christian church is the greatest redeeming force left today in a tortured world. Whenever Axis ideals are there also are the regimentation of the mind and the soul and a belief that interracial fraternity is sentimental weakness. In violent contrast we stand for international fraternity, for sympathy, fellowship and selfless ministry to mankind. The church stands for intellectual enlightenment and complete trust in the power of the spirit, in the force of persuasion and example, and in the ultimate victory of Christian love. Propaganda such as this is the fundamental task of the church. Will you not give this program the backing it deserves?

At the sign of triumph Satan's host doth flee;
On, then, Christian soldiers, on to victory!

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Thus saith the Lord: Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.—Jeremiah 21:8.

I strove with none; for none was with my strife.
Nature I loved and, next to Nature, Art;
I warned both hands before the fire of life;
It sinks, and I am ready to depart.

ARE YOU MOVING?

OUR JOB is to serve you promptly, efficiently. During these days of wartime restrictions, however, it may not be possible always to answer your service call as quickly as we would like

This is particularly true at moving time when our men and trucks are taxed to the limit. But we can serve you better and save you unnecessary waiting if you will give us advance notice—a week or more if possible—when you wish electrical service to be connected or disconnected.

If you own an electric range and plan to move, consult with us to learn whether or not ample electrical facilities to suit your needs are available at the new home.

GARLAND

Garland, March 20 — Norman Taylor spent the weekend in Pittsburgh, going there on business.

Charles Strife who has been employed doing light jobs on the Moore estate, where he also lived, died shortly after being taken to the Warren hospital recently.

Robert Coon, on paying his brother Charles a visit, taking him his weekly supplies of groceries, found him dead in the yard. The aged man who has been residing alone in the old Williams house near Garland on the Spring Creek road, had evidently dropped dead. Mrs. William Chapman has been taken to the Warren hospital where she will submit to an operation this week.

Robert Palmer miraculously escaped possible death, Wednesday when the tractor he was driving tipped over, pinning young Palmer underneath. He, with Raymond Tripp and Walter Hamilton were working in the woods near Spring Creek getting logs out when the accident occurred. Mr. Tripp rushed Robert to the Corry hospital and then returned to Garland to rush the boy's mother to the bed-side of her son. Fortunately however, it was revealed that the young man was suffering more from shock than injury. It was thought the softness of the ground, evidently imbedded his body thus preventing what might have been a fatal accident. He is now back home in Garland and those involved are beginning to recover from the scare they experienced. Young Robert recently passed the physical test for induction into the service of his country. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer of this place.

The first social activity given in the community house at Garland took place on Friday evening when a pie social was held there. About one hundred and fifty people enjoyed the evening which also proved a financial success. The building still has many things yet to be done, but all are very proud of the satisfactory work thus far, the fine equipment, the modern heating etc., and the possibilities the interior suggests. is a source of satisfaction to all residents in this vicinity.

County Agent's News

DAIRYMEN CAN SAVE LABOR IN MANY WAYS

Many dairymen can save time and hundreds of steps each day by changing their methods of doing chores or installing home-made labor-saving devices. Habit may be an excellent custom but if it means extra steps and time just because a habit was formed years ago, then new habits should be adopted to take the place of the old ones, says County Agent O. C. Tritt.

A few suggestions for saving time and labor on the dairy farm are given by dairy extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State College.

1. Use feed carts for grain and silage to save steps.
2. Build hay and straw chutes from mows to cow stable.
3. Install grain chutes from granary to feed bin.
4. Mix salt with grain or use salt box rather than salting by hand each day.
5. Provide milk-can cart to get milk to road or milk house.
6. Clip cow's rear quarters, udder, and tail to save time in cleaning.
7. Keep water before calves at all times rather than carrying water twice each day.
8. Use better milking practices to save time in milking.
9. Use of pasture for those who have feed the year around.
10. Plan chores and work around barn to save steps and time.

CULL FREQUENTLY TO REMOVE POOR LAYERS

Unprofitable layers should be removed from the pens as rapidly as practical, says County Agent O. C. Tritt. Efficient feed use and egg production, as well as the needs of the war effort, demand the greatest return possible per bird and per hour of labor expended. Prompt removal of non-producers, moreover, sends better meat fowls to market.

Poultry extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State College report frequent use of a catching hook and a handy place to keep fowls that have been culled have been found helpful. Culled birds may be put in an ordinary shipping crate, the broody coop in the pen, or a small pen or nearby building. Fowls are thus culled as the eye of the caretaker defects the non-producers while he is about his daily chores. Then the fowls are marketed as often as local conditions, such as transportation and consumer demands, permit or require.

Systematic culling, every week or two, is greatly simplified by examining the fowls on the roost at night with a flashlight. Leghorns and other breeds with large combs are culled easily in this manner. The appearance of the head is a reliable indicator of production. The head of a laying hen is bright red, and the comb and wattles are full, large, soft, and waxy. The non-layer has a shrunken comb and dull head. Upon further examination, the trained observer notes the large, pink moist vent of the layer with her soft skin and expanded abdomen. The body of the hen out of production is shrunken or heavy with fat, and the vent is small, dry and yellow.

YOUR VICTORY GARDEN

Part 16
SEEDS, tools, fertilizers and labor are so scarce that Victory Gardeners will have to conserve each of them. One of the most efficient and easiest ways to conserve is to organize community gardens where the plowing and planting are done on a city-wide or neighborhood basis.
Such plans produced remarkable results last week in Chicago, San Francisco, Denver, New York and many other cities.
In city-wide plans, such as Chicago sponsored, a Victory Garden department was created.
The city offered to plow up any vacant lot that was at least 75 feet wide; 100 feet long and available to at least four families. Plots in city parks, five by twelve feet, were prepared for school children.
As a result of the enthusiasm created by the Chicago campaign, there were more than 130,000 gardens in the city last summer, covering 1,700 acres. They produced 55,000,000 pounds of fresh vegetables.
City officials were amazed to learn that the school children, in fifth to eighth grades, produced nearly 500 tons of food in 14,062 gardens. They carried through their summer garden campaigns despite heat, drought and insects.
Advantages of a city-wide or neighborhood plan are these: Large lots may be plowed at small expense if a number of gardeners participate. Likewise they may be irrigated and fertilized on a large scale, with machinery. Tools may be shared. All this reduces the amount of heavy work and expense.
BECAUSE the 1943 campaigns produced such good results, similar ones will be carried out again in 1944. Among the novel ones will be cycle-gardens, where gardeners without land near their homes will bicycle to a community plot in an adjacent neighborhood.
Some cities also have constructed

Bullfighting is not always so one-sided, as the unusual action photo above shows. Silverio Perez, idol of Mexican bullfight fans, is pictured in ring of Plaza El Toreo, Mexico City, impaled on the horns of a bull. Famed matador saved his life by holding the horn with both hands, preventing it from ripping through his body.

READING & WRITING BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

PROBABLY the most famous country editor this country has ever known is the late William Allen White, whose death a few weeks ago came as a shock to his many friends and admirers.

For almost half a century, since 1897, Bill White was editor of the Emporia, Kansas, Gazette, during which period the paper grew from a circulation of 600 to nearly 7,000. He bought it for $3,000 and could have sold it for a quarter of a million. But he never would, nor would he accept the enticing offers that came to him from New York and other big cities. He wanted to stay, he said, in a town where he could water his lawn with thirty-five feet of hose.

Bill White was so closely identified with the newspaper and political worlds, we forget that early in his life he also wrote novels and stories of note, while later, one of his major interests was the Book-of-the-Month Club. He was one of the five judges who was with the Club since its inception in 1926, his colleagues being Dorothy Canfield, Henry Seidel Canby, Christopher Morley and the late Heywood Brown.

Aside from his own little beloved Emporia Gazette, Bill White said he regarded this work of reading and choosing books for wide distribution as his major activity in recent years.

Of late Mr. White often did not make the long trip from Emporia to attend the Club's monthly editorial meetings. His substitutes were long telegrams and long distance calls, in which he gave pungent criticisms of the books up for consideration. On one such book, however, he made no comment, either for or against. This was "They Were Expendable," by W. L. White, his son. "They Were Expendable" was chosen unanimously as a book-of-the-month by the other three judges.

One of the most paradoxical men of history was Alfred Nobel, described in Michael Evlanoff's biography, "Nobel—Prize Donor." He was the inventor of dynamite and also a pacifist. He amassed a tremendous fortune from the manufacture of munitions, and bequeathed that fortune to a fund for prizes for the best works in physics, science, chemistry, medicine, literature, and in the field of peace. He was one of the most spectacular men of his times, yet he lived a quiet, secluded life. He reconciled his profession to his pacifism with a bit of logic that we must now call naive, to say the least. He believed that when men realized the horrors of war with modern weapons of destruction, they would stop fighting.

Garden Club At VFW Auxiliary Has Youngsville Has Annual Election; Pleasant Session Plans Activities

Youngsville, March 24—There was a large attendance and six new members were added at the meeting of Brokenstraw Garden Club held this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Johnson, West Main street. Mrs. Solberg conducted the business session and a contribution was voted to the service club.

The program committee presented calendars for the new year in the form of booklets bearing a fine photograph of a historical monument of Youngsville early history. Pictures show the first millstone of a gristmill in Brokenstraw valley, now mounted in the Mead family reunion monument west of the borough, and most attractively depicted against a background of evergreen in a snowy setting. The club has been much interested in keeping the plot of ground about the monument in order.

Feature of the evening was an interesting and helpful talk by Ray McDowell on the planting of seeds in victory gardens. As entertainment, there were contests for naming flowers, both common and some not so well known, from pictures. Another contest was based on the name of a well known flower grower and packages of flower seeds were given winners in both competitions.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Metro Teconchuk presented a beautiful birthday cake for her husband and two other persons having birthdays in March.

The next meeting will be held April 18th with Mrs. Arthur Streeter.

Illustrated Lecture At
Y. M. Monday

A most appropriate, as well as interesting and inspirational service will be conducted by the Young Men's Christian Association, in the main lobby of the "Y" building, Monday evening of this coming week at 8 p. m. The service will feature a program of sacred art and music, illustrated by the showing of a set of colored slides on "The Passion of Christ."

The pictures, interpretations by artists such as Tissot, Franck, Munkacsy, Rubens, Rembrandt, Raphael, Harnack and others, will be commented upon by Dr. LeRoy Campbell, whose travel and study experiences fit him well for this service.

Musical numbers will include soprano and contralto selections
by Gloria Valone and Grace Campbell; "Sheep and Lambs" by Sydney Homer; "Ballad of Trees and the Master" by Chadwick, and
"Ave Maria" by Bach-Gounod.
The accompanist will be Edith Haines Kuester. Appropriate victim selections will be played by Nick Geracimos.

This fine program has been arranged by the Religious Work Committee of the Y. M. C. A., of which Robert R. Young is chairman. All interested persons of Warren and environs, young and old alike, are cordially invited to attend.

Story Hour
Group Poses
For Pictures

Another record was broken yesterday afternoon in the Warren Public Library's community hour, when, despite rain which the staff feared might affect attendance, close to 400 children assembled between 3:30 and 4:00 for the semi-monthly children's story period.

Although the juvenile department and the director's room were almost filled, the children were orderly and responsive and a number remained to assist in straightening the room after the crowd had dispersed.

Mrs. Gerald Archibald had selected two stories which seemed to particularly appeal to the children. They were "The Princess and the Pies" and "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary." Photographer Everett Stoke had set up his cameras before the children started to arrive and managed to get a number of straight pictures and candid shots of the group, which caused a little competition for front seats.

The next story hour will be held in two weeks, or one week from next Thursday. Mrs. Archibald has announced that there will be special celebration of Hans Christian Andersen's birthday, which happens to fall on that day.

YMCA Tourney Swings into Semi-Finals

Musser-Wick Head Teams Coming Here For Big Test Tonight

The Basketball Carnival, being held at the local "Y" goes into its semi-final stages tonight. Boasting stars such as Musser, Morrison and Ward, the Franklin C.P.T. club comes to Warren to meet the Emporium Sylvania team. Sylvania made up of former college graduates headed by Wick. St. Lawrence U. flash, are a snappy aggregation that have been meeting the best in their section and giving a good account of themselves. Twice this season they met the local Struthers team, which had added such local players as Dean Nelson, Bill Weidert, Emory Morrison, and Ken Berdine to give them added strength, and as many times defeated them. However the odds are riding on the Franklin team to go into the finals.

The winnow game will see the National Forge team, winner of the local "Y" basketball league this year, meeting the All-Stars from Corry. Manager Nick Creola will have in his line-up the following: Emory Morrison, Johnny Paw, Ed Mack, George Geigerich, Willard Zerbe, Dean Nelson, Johnny Sabat, Geo. Wasil, Joe Korchak, and Joe Scialise. With this combination the Forge should be able to give the Corryites the best tussle they have yet encountered in the tourney. The visitors will have in their line-up Markowitz and Arkwright, both members of the Post-Jewelers team of Erie, and both high scorers. Carter and McElroy, two more players that find the bucket quite frequently, and Baresi and Brumagin who are excellent passers and fine on the defensive. It is a toss-up as to whom will be the winner of this game but it looks as though the visitors have a slight advantage, because they have played more often than the local boys this season and against stiffer competition.

Special seats have been placed in the Gym to take care of any overflow of spectators. These seats will be for adults only.

The first game starts at 8:00 p. m. and the second at 9:00 p. m.

(By Joe Gardner)

Constant talk about the Kinzua dam brings back to mind an incident that happened in that little town more than twenty years ago. At that time we were managing the Russell Wild Cats, a baseball club from Pine Grove Township known for their fire and snap. With such luminaries as "Dutch" Hart, the brothers John and "Cub" Moll, "Wig" Weatherby, Willis Eby and a gallant company of pirates we invaded the peaceful town of Kinzua on a sleepy summer Sunday afternoon.

The Pennsylvania Lumber Company was in operation and the town was full of lumberjacks. As the game started all was peaceful and quiet outwardly but there was an undercurrent of ominous unrest among the paying customers. The Kinzua lads led by the famous Mann brothers were able to put up a pretty fair bit of opposition, nevertheless even with their manager as umpire the score stood at seven to nothing going into the eighth inning, in favor of the Russell Wild Cats.

And then all heck broke loose "Wig" Weatherby, who was on first base ran for second on a beautiful hit deep into right field, he touched second all O. K. but some impulse or other caused him to ignore third base entirely and streak directly from second past the umpire, who incidentally was doing his chores behind the pitcher, and head for home. The umpire was watching the relay coming in from right field and did not see "Wig" until that worthy had blithely crossed home plate and then his honor the Ump called him safe.

Well that was the pay off, the woodsmen could take it no longer and swarmed onto the playing field.

To make a long story short that incident not only stopped the game but started a nice sized riot. The Russell Wild Cats left Kinzua rather abruptly with a good sized delegation of woodchoppers as escort, right behind. Thus starting a feud that lasted a good many years.

The moral of this true story is that while fun is fun it does not pay to push a good thing too far, particularly when you are dealing with a bunch of husky lumberjacks.

State Hospital Drops Match To Publishers

Joe Gardner, veteran athletic promoter, coach and trainer, piloted the Times-Mirror team of the Elks league to a 13-pin victory over the State Hospital bowlers at North Warren last night, the scores being 2709 to 2694. It was a new and somewhat embarrassing situation for Gardner considering his long experience in sports activities, since he is one of the substitutes and a staunch supporter of the Hospital team, and a regular on the Times-Mirror, but it was mainly due to the fact that he refused to permit sentiment to enter into the job of helping the visitors win that decided the match. His efforts were almost discounted by another veteran State Hospital athlete in the performance of Willis Eby, who came through with a total of 563. Beichner had high single for the team with 214 in the first. His 568 topped the team for total. Glenn Grosch, "cleanupper" for the Publishers was a little slow in finding the pocket but managed to finish with a 607 total and high game of 234 in the second. Other honor roll scores were: Eby, 212; Wilson 203; Lowrey, 212; Eddie Branch, substituting for "Doc" Elliott for the winners, came through with a 533 total. The team totals: State Hospital, 931 825 938-2694 Times-Mirror, 876 999 834-2709

Another Yank Is Definitely Lost To Army

New York, March 24.—(P)—The Yanks are going, and at the rate the world champions are departing for the service perhaps it was slightly prophetic when Skipper Joe McCarthy had the boys participate in a potato race yesterday. The American League race will be just that to them if the migration continues.

Roy Weatherly is the latest definitely to be lost. The stubby outfielder had passed his physical, but believed he might not be called up immediately and had made plans to attend the Atlantic City camp. He was a little too optimistic, it seems. It was learned yesterday he can expect to go into the service April 1.

To add to McCarthy's woes,

That famous "Breakfast of Champions" is something to "write home about." You'll find out why when you enjoy your first bowl of Wheaties — they're that good.

Jack Phillips, a combination outfielder-infielder McCarthy had been watching, announced he would leave today to meet his draft board at East Aurora, N. Y., April 1. Just a week ago the Yankees of a team is through the middle.

Pelliteri Is Angling For Title Mixup

New York, March 24.—(P)—Tony Pelliteri of Garfield, N. J., better known as Tippy Larkin, looked longingly today toward a prominent spot in the lightweight title mixup.

With his punching prowess, he doesn't care whether he gets a crack at Bob Montgomery, holder of the NY-NJ-Pa version, or Juan Zurita, who has NBA sanction, but he wants to be in there against someone.

Last night, in an all-New Jersey scrap scheduled for 10 stanzas, he belted out Allie Stoltz, of Newark, a better than fair lightweight, in three heats. Some 15,737 fans paid $61,585 into Madison Square Garden's tills to see him do it.

Despite New Emblem They Will Be Phils

By JACK HAND

Wilmington, Del., March 24.—(P)—Let's get it straight for the records. It's still the Phillies in the National League in Philadelphia although they'll wear a blue jay emblem on their shirts.

The late and lamented contest to select a new emblem for the club was the brainchild of Owner Bob Carpenter and his public relations man, Bill Phillips, who might have had in mind the value of some mid-winter publicity. Returns flooded the Phil office, over 5,000 letters proposing 639 different emblems, but there was a healthy sized stack of mail from the dyed in the wool fans who begged that the Phillies be allowed to remain the Phillies.

Somebody in the front office had tired of always topping a club letterhead with a picture of a Quaker or a William Penn so they started searching for a substitute and wound up with an entirely new article—the blue jay.

Now the club is busy disclaiming any change in name, insisting that any resemblance between the new emblem and a foot remedy is purely coincidental and not emblematic of the proposed comebacks of Freddy Fitzsimmons, Merv Shea and Chuck Klein.

Most fogs disappear between eight and 10 in the morning, according to weather men.

Central Grocery; Texas Lunch vs. McLeans Budweiser. Wednesday—Open bowling. Thursday—Oscar's Rest. vs. Keystone; 3-4 alleys open. Friday—Hendersons vs. S. S. Market; Soda Mineral vs. Morells Rest.

Last Night's Bouts

New York—Tippy Larkin, 137, Garfield, N. J., knocked out Allie Stoltz, 134, Newark (3); Aaron Perry, 142, Washington, knocked out Joe Manfro, 144 3/4, New York (1); Danny Bartfield, 138 1/4, New York, outpointed Ruby Garcia, 137, Puerto Rico (6).
Highland Park, N. J.—Lenny Boo! Mancini, 145, Youngstown, Ohio, outpointed Rudy Richardson, 138, New Britain, Conn. (8); Jerry Coursol, 139, Valley Stream, N. Y., knocked out Little Joe Louis, 139, Passaic, N. J. (3).
Philadelphia—Billy Arnold, 143 1/2, Philadelphia, outpointed Billy Furrone, 145 3/4, Philadelphia (8); Ray Scully, 165, Reading, Pa., outpointed Ed Harrison, 172, Philadelphia (5).

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — One of the most frequently asked questions in Washington following an important speech by any government official or congressman, is: "Who wrote it?"

A question often asked me is: "Who writes the President's?"

The answer is easy. The President. Just why rumors spring up that this or that man wrote this or that speech for the President is a mystery to me, but they invariably do. The rumor that Judge Sam Rosenman wrote the President's veto message on the tax bill became so prevalent that Presidential Secretary Steve Early took the trouble to tell press and radio correspondents that Judge Rosenman had never even seen the speech.

IN THE case of other government officials, this careful planning isn't always true. Some have entire speeches written for them and make only minor changes, but most, like the President, write their own ticket, sometimes without or even against advice.

Sen. Barkley's remarkable speech announcing his break with the President, and his intention to resign as floor leader, was so spontaneous that his secretary transcribing it had to have it rushed to him in "takes"—the last pages arriving in the nick of time.

The capital is unanimous in its opinion that it was Barkley's greatest speech and contained a line that will be quoted as long as there is a President and Congress: "If we cannot trust each other, how can the people trust us?"

speech-writers" go to work. This might be Judge Rosenman, in the case of the President, or Robert Sherwood, or any of several others scattered around in divisions of government with which the speech deals.

Out of a mass of material, the President for one writes his own ticket. He has thrown away whole sheaves of such "initial" speeches, taken a word, phrase or facts from another, but what comes out is the President's own. Sometimes he takes advice on phraseology, sometimes a note. I have seen dozens of the President's prepared speeches, released to the press a few hours before delivery. I have never seen one in which the President followed his text to the letter. Sometimes there were whole paragraphs deleted or written in at the last minute.

For this service all government officials, including the President, either have staffs or sources to which their secretaries can turn—the Library of Congress, the fact-gathering agencies in the various departments, or even private fact-finding groups whose statistics over the years have been found reliable.

Once these facts are in, and the general policy determined, the and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Richards have endorsed his permission to enter the U. S. Navy. The young lad leaves for Buffalo this week where he will have his physical test. Young Jim was so anxious to become a part of this great struggle, he wouldn't wait for his birthday.

Mrs. Buckley and children were in Tidouite Thursday evening. Howard Eastman has returned to his duties after a ten day furlough with his parents and other relatives here.

Robert Bugbee and Neil Black were Corry visitors Saturday evening.

Mrs. Chris Lund was the hostess for the last meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary.

The deepest sympathy is extended, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carlson who have received word that their only son, Norman is reported missing in action. Young Norman, his parents and grandparents have been Garland residents and it is to be sincerely hoped that more encouraging news will
